POLITICAL COMBINE PUTS THROUGH ITS TICKET

POWERFUL COMBINATION CARRIES ALL BEFORE IT IN CONVENTION

Ticket Agreed On Goes Speeding Through

A smooth-working and powerful combination of precinct forces between the Fourth and Fifth districts flattened out opposition with such ease in the Republican county convention yesterday that it nominated seven supervisors by overwhelming majorities, swept Col. Sam Parker into the candidacy for mayor without even a good struggle, laid out a legislative ticket and otherwise operated without a slip.

In the progress of the combination, Lorrin Andrews and his fight for a "secret ballot" were tripped up and effectually rolled out of the way, and when the convention had once adopted the open ballot system of voting, there was not a chance to stop this combination from going through to the end.

It was a combination of forces among Republican leaders of the two precincts, with the Third of the fourth, the Fifth of the Fourth and the Tenth of the Fourth, and the Fourteenth of the Fifth among the moving forces. John H. Wise and B. von Damm were the active floor leaders and their maneuvering before and during the convention kept the combination speeding along regardless of switch-signs or speed limits. In fact, it was a tidy organization of delegates built up on the principle of reciprocity, and the precincts gave and took under a well-understood arrangement that was mutually effective.

200 Votes to Work With.
Something like 200 votes, an easy majority of the convention, was always at the command of this combination, and of the remaining 326—one delegate being ill and absent—there were many times when the scattering forces went to the combination and helped it along in return for what it would do for their individual precinct desires.

The final maneuvers that copper riveted the combination were the agreements with the forces supporting Carlos A. Long and David Nolley for the supervisorship. Long's strength was drawn into the combination as late as Wednesday night, and it was not until yesterday morning that the Nolley crowd and the combination definitely came to an agreement of mutual support. By getting in these two men for the board of supervisors, the leaders made a powerful pull in both districts. The arrangement included the nomination of A. Q. Marcellino from Long's precinct, the ninth of the Fourth, for the House, and in the Marcellino campaign, G. F. Affonso of Kaimuki went down with a thud, the Portuguese support being thrown to Marcellino. Over in the Fifth district, the Nolley precinct, with 19 votes, together with plenty more Fifth district votes, was a strong lever on the nomination.

How They Lined Up.
As the combination finally went into the convention, it was armed with the strength of the following precincts:

Fourth district—Second precinct, 18 votes; third, 17; fourth, 25; fifth, 19; sixth, 16; seventh, 14; tenth, 6; eleventh, 2; and an average of six votes in the twelfth precinct of the Fourth, the delegation being somewhat divided beforehand.

Fifth district—Second precinct, 2; fourth, 8; fifth, 12 votes divided; sixth, 6; seventh, 6; eighth, 15; twelfth, 5; thirteenth, 15 votes divided; fourteenth, 19 votes; fifteenth, 11; sixteenth, 1; seventeenth, 5.

Of course this combination did not always hold to this line-up, for sometimes individual precincts would break away to support a "favorite son." Thus the third precinct of the Fourth district went out of the combination to throw its seventeen votes to Eben Low, a member of the delegation for mayor, as against Col. Parker, but on the other hand, Col. Parker's strength was not confined to the combination by any means, and he swept most of the delegations almost solidly. Low was never in the running.

HUSTACE RUN INDEPENDENT, RUMOR TODAY

Mayorality Situation Not Entirely Satisfactory—Low Very Bitter

Charles Hustace, Jr., will run as an independent candidate for mayor, according to a report that stirred political circles this morning and came as the result of the Republican convention's action last night.

Mr. Hustace was asked as to the report of his candidacy by the Star-Bulletin this afternoon but declined to make any definite statement, saying it would be premature. He would not confirm the report, but it was given full belief today by a number of his friends.

The mayorality situation is today giving considerable concern to the Republican leaders, because of the fact that the withdrawal of John C. Lane, the elimination of Eben Low by what he feels was the "steak-roller route," the naming of Col. Parker and the splits caused by the defeat of certain aspirants for various offices, have all combined to stir up considerable factional feeling.

Low this morning made no bones of the fact that he is angry at the action of the convention majority and that he feels he was not given a square deal.

"When combinations like that of yesterday can have a man knifed as I was knifed, when deals are made that take away votes absolutely pledged, what can a man expect of his party?" asked Low this morning of a group of politicians and interested spectators at the corner of Fort and King streets.

Low says that a number of Fifth district precincts were pledged to him and that the delegates were all in favor of him, but that they were forced to go with the combination. "A man dare not come out for office in Honolulu," said Low with bitterness that was echoed by several around him. "It makes no difference how good a man's public record may be, he has to rely on political pulls and political trades to get his nomination. I'll tell you: the action of the convention is a warning to good men not to present themselves for office."

Low was eliminated last night by a vote of 250 to 57, but before he was beaten a determined attempt was made to get him to withdraw. John Lane early in the evening saw that he could not hope to win against the combination that had settled upon Col. Parker, and Lane withdrew with the announcement that his strength would be cast for Parker.

Lorrin Andrews told the convention of Lane's withdrawal, making a speech in which he said that Lane refused to run because the open ballot method had been adopted and the delegates had been prevented from expressing

CONKLING BACK WITH LIGHT ON BOODLE PROBE

Tells Story of Why Inquiry on T. R.'s Campaign Fund Stopped

DOCUMENT SHOWS PENROSE HELD OUT

Senator Pocketed $25,000 of Coin Donated by Standard Oil Company

The reason why that investigation of Standard Oil's contribution to Roosevelt's campaign fund in 1904 was dropped for a time is explained by Territorial Treasurer David Lloyd Conkling, who arrived today on the Mongolia after his long stay in New York, where he recently sold the Territorial bond issue of $1,500,000.

It seems that the Standard Oil Company confessed payment of $125,000 to the Roosevelt campaign fund in 1904, and that $100,000 was ordered returned to the company by Roosevelt. Senator Penrose, who received the contribution for the Republican campaign managers, was on friendly terms with the Standard Oil officials.

But the investigation resulted in the discovery of a personal note addressed to Penrose by the Standard Oil managers, showing that he had received a check for $125,000, and that only $100,000 of this had been turned over to the campaign fund, the remaining $25,000 being pocketed by Senator Penrose. At this point the investigation petered out, those active in the work finding that the deeper they went into the subject the more votes they were making for the Bull Moose.

Taft Stronger.
"However," says Conkling, "Taft is becoming stronger every day and while things looked dubious a few weeks ago I am now convinced that he will be elected. And it will be an election, not requiring the necessity of going into Congress because of his failure to get a clear majority in the electoral college."

"The excitement attending the conventions has died away, and people are beginning to look at the situation with more sanity. They are beginning to see that the methods which Roosevelt excoerates Taft for using in the convention, were the same methods Roosevelt did not hesitate to employ in 1904 and again in 1908 to elect Taft when the latter was his favorite. They are beginning to feel that Roosevelt is not only inconsistent, but unscrupulous."

Also, he is making himself unpopular in many sections in the course of his speaking tour. In one of the cities

MAUI COUNTY CONVENTION IS ALL HARMONY

Penhallow and Harry Baldwin Nominated for Territorial Senate

[Special Star-Bulletin Aerogram]
WAILUKU, Maui, Sept. 20.—The Maui county Republican convention, held here yesterday was harmonious, and a feature was that the office-holders are re-nominated with a few exceptions. Among these are the nominations of Sam Kalama for chairman of the board of supervisors, H. B. Penhallow and H. A. Baldwin for the senate, and F. Goodness and John Wilcox for the house. Goodness is from Wailuku and Wilcox from Hana.

Twelve women of Norwalk, O., dressed as men, tarred and feathered a handsome young girl accused of flirting, and ordered her to leave town.

"Our Jack" Collects For Bull Moosers; At $1,000 Monthly

A. L. C. ATKINSON.

"Our Jack" Atkinson won't return to Hawaii for at least two months, and perhaps longer. Territorial Treasurer, D. L. Conkling, who returned this morning on the Mongolia, brings the explanation.

Jack Atkinson, he says, has been placed at the head of the committee in charge of the collection of campaign funds for the Bull Moose party. Headquarters have been established on the eighth floor of the Manhattan hotel, New York city, and Atkinson has generously consented to take charge of the supply of oil that will be used to grease the Bull Moose machinery for the paltry salary of $1000 a month.

SEC. FISHER AND PARTY ON WAY TO HAWAII

Will Tour Entire Island and Maui Before Returning Sept. 29

Secretary of the Interior Walter L. Fisher and his party departed on the Kilauea at noon today for Hawaii, where they will remain until Sunday, September 23, touring the entire island of Hawaii and the island of Maui before returning to Honolulu. The Secretary plans leaving here October 3 with Secretary of State Knox on the U. S. S. Maryland, and will have only three or four days to devote to public hearings here before completing his investigation.

In the party leaving today were Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Mott-Smith, wife of the Territorial Secretary. It was not known up to the final minute before sailing whether they would go, that depending on a cable from Secretary Knox. The cable did not come, so they went.

The reason for this is that Mrs. Fisher is not a very good sailor, and did not relish the prospect of the Journey to Hawaii in the small Inter-Island vessel. A cable was sent Secretary Knox, asking whether, on his return trip, he would stop at Hilo en route to Honolulu or would make this port first, going thence on the Maryland to Hilo. Had word come that he would make Honolulu first, proceeding later to Hilo, Mrs. Fisher would have remained here until that time. But she was determined to see the volcano, and as no word of assurance came that she might go over on the Maryland, she made certain of the trip by going with her husband, with Mrs. Mott-Smith as escort.

Members of Party.
The other members of the party are Governor Frear and his attorney, C. R. Hemenway; Prince Kuhio and his attorney, C. W. Ashford; Territorial Secretary E. A. Mott-Smith and the newspaper representatives.

Most of the time will be given to the tour over the island of Hawaii, only two days being allowed for the Secretary's movements on the latter island, as finally completed this morning, is as follows:

Arrival on the Kilauea at McGreggor's Landing on the evening of September 26, where they will be met by the committee of Maui citizens in automobiles; The Secretary, the Governor and the Delegate will be the guests of F. F. Baldwin that night.

After breakfast the following morning the party will assemble at Kahului and take the train to Mamakua, going over the railroad through the

Powerful Organization Backing Strikers In Utah Threatens To Call Out 5000 More Men In Nevada, Arizona And New Mexico

[Associated Press Cable]
SALT LAKE, Utah, Sept. 20.—The Western Federation of Miners, which is backing the strike at Bingham, where 1000 armed miners are entrenched, is considering the advisability of extending the strike to the mines of the Consolidated Companies in Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico, which would result in adding 5000 men to the army of strikers.

KONA COFFEE FOR ALL TROOPS IN PHILIPPINES

First Shipment Satisfactory. Probably 40,000 Lbs. Monthly

That all the coffee supplied to the United States army in the Philippines will in the near future be Kona coffee, purchased in this Territory, seems probable in the light of recent correspondence and orders received by Captain D. B. Case, depot commissary of the Department of Hawaii. On October 1 Captain Case is under orders to make a trip to Hawaii, to inspect the coffee crop, and it is believed that this trip will result in a large monthly export of material for the cup that cheers Uncle Sam's boys in khaki.

Some months ago the army purchased about 35,000 pounds of Kona coffee, which was shipped to the Philippines for trial. Reports and comments on this shipment have been entirely favorable to both the grade and condition of the article. This means that if the price is right, Hawaiian growers will have the inside track on the Philippine supply, besides that of the Department of Hawaii.

MANY MOURN EDWARD POLLITZ

On the funeral of Edward Pollitz the San Francisco Chronicle of September 14 says:
The funeral of the late Edward Pollitz took place yesterday morning at 10 o'clock from the Argonaut Club. The spacious parlors of the club were filled to overflowing with the many friends of the deceased, and many were unable to get seats.

The casket was completely enshrouded in a pall of purple chrysanthemums and ferns, while more than a score of handsome floral pieces occupied the entire background of the room.

Rabbi Martin Meyer of Temple Emanu-El officiated and spoke in appropriate terms of the well defined attributes of character which had won for Edward Pollitz the esteem of his business associates and the good will of all with whom he came in contact. Rabbi Meyer brought out clearly how a righteous life always wins its own reward. He said the deceased had come here from Germany many years ago and had, by diligence and integrity, carved out a business reputation which now stands as a fitting memorial to a good man. "This city needs more men like Edward Pollitz," said the speaker, "men who are honorable in all their dealings, men who are builders and possess the creative ability to produce something where none existed before, men who build on the strong foundations of integrity, men like the deceased broker, whose life was adorned with justice, honesty, charity and loving kindness."

A representative of the Honolulu Stock and Bond Exchange spoke briefly on behalf of that institution and the many business friends of Hawaii, expressing sorrow at the loss of one who had done so much for the upbuilding and prosperity of the islands.

The pallbearers were: C. B. Wells, A. C. Hellman, H. Berk, Simon Meyer, Carl Wolters, H. W. Thomas, Joseph Frienlander, William Williamson, L. Greenbaum, H. Schwartz, A. J. Brandenstein, N. Steinberger, George Cohn, Boas Pike, Herman Wadeck and J. F. Burgin.

Only Henry St. Goar, business partner of the deceased, and family and a few of the most intimate friends accompanied the cortege to the cemetery, the interment being strictly private.

Complaint is made by citizens who have to use Eighth avenue, makai, Wai'alae road, that the gas company places no lights at night on the open ditch the company has dug along that thoroughfare.
